 It was dooms day
 And I dared to come out and take a peek at reality
 And I said Uh Oh I wish I didn't know
 I said Uh Oh I wish I didn't know
 Because awareness of this vile mess
 Makes me nervous Makes me nervous
 And leaves me with responsibility
 To get off my butt and work for some parity
 But just try it here Try to try it and see

 And what's your commitment to fighting AIDS, Mr. President?
 Mandatory testing? Please!
 We're taking about the lives of these Young ones and babies dying
 Long before their time
 Wake up It's not just Their problem
 It's clearly yours and mine
 We buried James Oglesby in October
 He would have been 4 years old this coming Christmas day
 He was a Christmas baby
 Happy Birthday James
 Surprise, you're dead
 We've lost infants and sons and mothers
 We buried Tammy White last Saturday
 She was 6 years old
 Her little sister Shanel and her mom and dad died before her this year
 They're reporting 45,000 deaths
 And 80,000 cases of AIDS in the USA
 1 million or a million and a half infected, they say
 These aren't just statistics
 These are our loved ones
 This is serious business

 In El Salvador Death squads again flourish more and more
 CIA-backed government rule
 Extra-judicial executions, torture, blatant cruelty
 Oh forget the Contras
 And look next door
 The human rights abuses in El Salvador are a hundred times more
 And don't tell me that they don't exist

 Racism thrives
 Apartheid flaunts its evil fist
 7 more convicted of terrorism against the state
 4 of treason added to the list
 Charged for a "legal march with guilty intent"
 "High treason without violence" What?
 They've hung 115 so far this year in Pretoria alone
 And about 279 are still on death row
 They hung 6 people November 18th
 And 5 on Thanksgiving day
 So what are we going to do? Nothing?
 What are we going to say? Nothing?
 History has known insanity Of white supremacy before
 And we vowed never to forget Or let it happen anymore
 And we swore not to sit silent
 While murder and madness runs rampant
 That's what the holocaust taught, I thought
 That's what the holocaust taught, I thought
 So for starts, let's sanction the Botha regime
 Before they murder any others
 We can't sit safe, lethargic and passive
 While they kill and oppress the masses
 Human right abuses ignored throughout this planet
